

BRAVE RESCUE AT A FIRE BY POLICEMEN.

Colligan and Brennan Rushed Into a Burning Building and Saved the Inmates.

Two Families Were Sleeping Soundly When the Flames Broke Out in the Saloon Underneath.

HALLWAY FILLED WITH SMOKE.

Women and Children Carried Out by the Officers Before the Firemen Arrived.
Too Modest to Report the Rescue at the Station House.

But for the bravery of two policemen of the Fulton street station, in Brooklyn, it is probable that at least half a dozen lives would have been lost in a fire at Pearl and York streets, early yesterday morning.

Policemen Robert J. Colligan and Brennan were conversing at Jay and York streets a few moments after 3 o'clock yesterday morning, when they started by a numbered house, which lasted several seconds, and was followed by a loud explosion. The policemen ran to the corner of Pearl street, where they saw that the interior of Jeremiah McCarthy's saloon, at No. 92 York street, was a mass of flames. Policemen Brennan dashed over Pearl street to front, and hurriedly turned in an alarm of fire from the box at the corner.

Policeman Colligan had in the meanwhile forced an entrance into the burning building by way of a door facing Pearl street.
He found the hallway filled with smoke, and the only noise he could hear was the screaming of a sleeping man on the first floor and the crackling of the flames in the store.

COLLIGAN TO THE RESCUE.

He groped his way upstairs and aroused the family by knocking on the door of their apartments with his night stick. The family is comprised of Albert Timme, his wife and their five children. Mrs. Timme was the first to awaken, and became greatly alarmed when she realized the danger.

The children jumped out of bed as soon as they were aroused from their sleep. The fourteen-year-old boy ran into the street in his night clothes, and his mother followed him with the baby.

The policeman picked up another child and carried it downstairs to the street. As he appeared, Policeman Brennan returned and dashed past Colligan into the house. At the first landing he found Lissie Timme, aged ten years, holding her three-year-old brother in her arms and trying to find her way downstairs. The smoke was suffocating, and little Lizzie was fast losing nerve, when Brennan almost fell over her. He took her under one arm and her brother under the other, and carried them to a place of safety.

Timme, who is a sound sleeper, had not awakened until his wife and several of the children had been rescued. He pulled on his pants and jumped out of the window on to the cornice. The extreme end of the cornice is about half a foot distant from a pillar of the elevated road. He got on the pillar and then climbed down into the street.

In the meantime Policeman Colligan had made his way through the smoke to the top floor of the building, and aroused the family, who occupy the apartments.
They all acted very bravely. Policeman Brennan helped Mrs. McArdle down stairs, with her four little children, while Policeman Colligan turned his attention to Miss Annie McArdle.

A CRIPPLED WOMAN SAID.
The latter is a cripple, twenty-three years of age, and cannot get along without her crutches. Her mother, who is fifty-two years old, had wrapped something about her, and was leading her out into the hallway, when Annie recalled that she did not have her crutches and returned for them, and when she again appeared, Policeman Colligan picked her up in his arms and carried her to the house of a neighbor. When he returned to the house to get her crutches the engines had arrived.

The flames were soon extinguished, and only about $2,000 damages was done. The modesty of the policemen prevented them from making a report of the rescue at the station house. The cause of the fire is a mystery, and it is probable that an investigation will be made. Almost everything belonging to the Timme family was destroyed.

NO USE FOR THE PRIZES.

Police Think There's Something Strange About the Sweeney Alleged Medal Thief.

Acting Captain Herman, of the Charles street station, advised yesterday that his detective, who was looking for a well-known champion jumper, in the hope of securing the latter's valuable collection of trophies, after assaulting Sweeney's sister-in-law and making away with $78 in cash. The brother of the jumper, who is a friend of his, has not been in the city within a week.

The police are inclined to doubt the story of the result and burglary as told by Mrs.
Christina Regan, with whom Sweeney and his wife reside when in the city. At present he is engaged as instructor at the Yottstown (Pa.) High School, and although he was in New York the day following the alleged robbery, he returned to his duties in Yottstown almost immediately. Acting Captain Herman did not learn of his presence until he had departed. The house, No.
72 Charles street, where the Rogers and Sweeney reside is only about two hundred feet from the Charles street Police Station, but the police were not informed of the robbery until 8:30 on Monday night, several hours after it is said to have occurred.

ORANGE TO ABANDON GAS.

Citizens Want Electric Lights, if They Can Get Good Rates.

Orange, April 30.—A movement is on foot in East Orange to have that township lighted by electricity instead of gas. Some time ago the East Orange Improvement Society appointed a committee of five to look into the cost of electric lighting.

The committee states that it believes a considerable number of the citizens of the township wish to avail themselves of electricity, provided it can be secured at a low rate.

Ostriches for the Park Zoo.

The Central Park "Zoo" yesterday received five ostriches, which they attracted great attention. They were placed in the enclosure at the western end of the deer house. The transfer of ostriches has been caused the keepers so much trouble several days past, was effected yesterday.

LANDMARK IN DANGER.

Fire Threatens to Destroy the Howard House in Brooklyn, Which Was Erected 200 Years Ago.

For nearly an hour yesterday, one of the landmarks of Brooklyn was in danger of destruction by fire. This was the Howard House, at the corner of Alabama and Atlantic avenues.

Chief Campbell was at work in the kitchen on the second floor yesterday afternoon when he saw smoke coming out of a storeroom across the hall. He made an investigation and found that some rubbish and the woodwork on one side of the building were burning fiercely. He immediately gave the alarm, and the firemen extinguished the flames after a hard fight.

The loss on the building, which is owned by S. Lieberman, is $2,500. J. Breuer, who occupies it as a hotel, lost $150.

The Howard House is a two-story frame building. It was built originally nearly two hundred years ago, and was the home of the Howard family. So many additions and repairs have been made to the house, that it is doubtful if any of the old building remains. During the Revolution the prominent parsons of Long Island and New York made this place a rendezvous, and before the battle of Long Island Washington had his headquarters there. Of late years the Howard House has been used as a hotel.

NEW JUDGES TAKE OFFICE.

Loving Cup Given to One of the Retiring
Magistrates—Justice Lemon
An Able Lawyer.

Two Police Justices retired in Brooklyn yesterday, and their successors took their places. The retiring magistrates were Henry F. Haggerty and Richard H. Laimbeer, and the new men are Charles B.
Seale and Andrew Lemon. Mr. Haggerty is a Democrat. The other three are Republicans.

When court adjourned in Ewen street yesterday morning, Justice Laimbeer was made the recipient of a loving cup by the

Magistrates—Justice Lemon

An Able Lawyer.

Justice Lemon, who is a very bright girl and small for her age, lived with her parents at No. 54 Brecken street, Williamsburg, was sent to the House of the Good Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger
age of jewelry, which she pawned, and
with the proceeds purchased candy and
cakes. Yesterday in the Ewen Street Police
Court Louise Billon, twelve years of age,
was arraigned and charged with the same
crime.

Louisa, who is a very bright girl and
small for her age, lived with her parents
at No. 54 Brecken street, Williams-
burg, was sent to the House of the Good
Shepherd for robbing children of younger age of jewelry, which